Civic Participation

I have been actively involved within the local community as well as in the metro area including but not limited to the following.

- Charter Commission
- Hyland Greens Task Force
- Former Councilmember
- Past Treasurer for the Regional Chamber of Commerce
- Past President of the Bloomington Chamber of Commerce

- Co-Founder of the BAA golf program
- Past Treasurer for BAA
- Past Treasurer for a US Senator
- Past Treasurer for the Bloomington Civic Theatre

Background & Interests

My background includes extensive financial and entrepreneurial experiences with an emphasis in real estate. My primary interest is family and spending time with my grandchildren. My secondary interest is anything to do with American history, economics and politics with a few rounds of golf and weed picking thrown in.

Why Do You Wish To Be Appointed?

I believe my experiences would allow the Council to select a person that would need minimal training and could step into the important role that Cynthia had as an at-large representative of the community. I do not have an "agenda" and I am strongly committed to the City of Bloomington. I also believe that we need to continue to invest in our community and to make sure we have balance between East & West Bloomington. I also believe we need to be fiscally responsible which means we can't do everything we would like to do but we need to make sure we are doing the basics well (fire, police, roads, sewer, etc.).

I am excited about being considered but I would respect the council's decision if another candidate is selected. As of now, I would be looking only to serve out this term and then stepping aside for a younger and perhaps a more diverse candidate.

Andrea Childress

I have been a resident of Bloomington Minnesota for over 14 years. My children and grandchildren have attended or graduated from Bloomington Public Schools. They have also participated in various sports at school and with Bloomington Parks & Recreation.

I bring a fresh perspective to the table with a unique voice due to my employment background and different qualifications. I have over 20 years of Government experience as well as 5 years as a law enforcement officer.

I have the ability to connect with people of diverse backgrounds due to my upbringing & family make up. I enjoy talking to people and hearing their passion but mostly enjoy seeing things through their eyes and help them with a plan for their goals to accomplish their aspirations.

I want to be appointed to assist Bloomington in growing more and becoming the "model city," for other cities within Minnesota to admire, and use the models to make their city flourish & grow that we used. I want to be one of the change agents used to assist people with a disability or the elderly to accomplish affordable housing and ADA compliant updates within Bloomington.

I have a certification in Event & Festival Management that allows me to assist as a council member when venue applications are submitted for public events approval.

I have over 15+ years experience working with financial budgets for the Government, State & Church. I also have led accounting teams for the past 15+ years and can understand complex and simple budgets.

I want to be appointed to make a difference in Glennington & the Residents no matter what their age is. There are just a few reasons why I wish to be appointed to the vacated Councilmember-at-Large position.

ATTACHMENT #4 TO APPLICATION FOR BLOOMINGTON CITY COUNCIL

WHY ME

The City Council should choose me to take Cynthia Bemis-Abrams' vacated seat because I can solve problems, I understand the proper relationship of Council and city staff, and because I can best represent a remarkably under-represented segment of her constituency: Latino Americans. I can solve problems because twenty-seven years of Marine and Army service followed by Law school and legal practice have taught me how that's done.

I was assigned by Army Personnel to work for one General Officer, but I worked for five. General officers sought me out for their Special Staffs because when they pointed me at a problem, the problem got fixed.

Bloomington's city council members should be problem solvers, but Council-members must also understand their role. The City Council establishes policy, and should ensure policies they set are followed, while the day to day operation of a City Manager/Council charter city is the responsibility of the City Manager. Years of service in the Army, mostly as a staff officer, taught me to understand very well how to stick to my proper lane. A Councilmember should have strategic vision, not day to day managerial concerns. This doesn't mean the Council should ignore day to day operations. The City Manager is responsible to the Council, and the Council must ensure that he meets his responsibilities. This does not include telling him how to meet those responsibilities.

A City Councilmember is also accountable – to his or her constituents. Councilwoman Abram's constituency includes the whole city.

Establish strategic policy – supervise the City Manager – be accountable to constituents. Those are the core duties I would be required to perform as a fellow council member. My resume summarizes why I'm the best qualified candidate to fulfill those duties.

Almost my entire twenty-seven years of military service in the Marines and Army were spent working in staffs developing and implementing policy, first at a level governing about a thousand soldiers (battalions) and later at high levels, including the national level (in Panama, Att. #2, 1989). I know what strategy is, how strategy should be developed, and how to supervise implementation of strategies because that is what I did for multiple general officers over twenty-seven years. Now, as a civil attorney, I continue to develop and use strategies in my legal work.

As an officer, I was always responsible for supervising teams ranging from a platoon of about fifty, to an entire post with hundreds of workers exercising the grave responsibility of preparing Minnesota (and other) Reserve soldiers for war in Iraq and Afghanistan after 911 (Att. #2, 2000-2003). I had to certify in writing that these units were fully qualified under Army standards to go to war. I could not and did not interfere in the internal operations of the dozens of work units on post; I did supervise them, ensure they met standards and got our job done.

Personal accountability was always an essential element of my work. I reported personally and directly to the Commanding General in Panama, before, during and after the invasion. Accountability for me meant looking my boss in the eye and explaining to him how the lives entrusted to him would be put at risk and how we minimized that risk and still got our mission accomplished. That is direct personal accountability.

I am ready to represent Councilwoman Abrams' entire constituency. I practice business law, contracts and litigation, so I understand the needs of Bloomington business from my daily work. I live in west Bloomington, and my own daily life leads me to understand the needs of that residential community. But I also understand the needs of an under-represented group of Bloomington citizens. Latino Americans form a large and growing constituency in Bloomington, with unique needs. A quick review of my CV will demonstrate to the Councilmembers that I am better qualified to represent this citizen bloc than any other candidate.

I am a native Spanish speaker. I've lived and worked in many of the countries from which our immigrant population come, so I understand not just their language but their culture, history and motivation for coming here. I don't have to read about the political turmoil in Guatemala that caused so many to flee here; I've seen it first hand. If you select me to fill Councilwoman Abrams' position, I promise to go out to the Latino community and represent their needs on the council better than any other councilmember ever has. And this segment of our city population is growing faster than any other ( <http://www.mncompass.org/trends/insights/2014-10-02-hispanic-population-trends>). I have also worked with our Bloomington schools on the educational issues of our Latino neighbors.

My cultural background does not just include Latinos. While stationed in Egypt I studied the Qur'an and shari'a law with my Arabic language instructor, who was a shari'a law graduate of the most prestigious and influential Sunni Muslim legal school, al Azhar University (Att#1, 1983). I learned first-hand the reasons so many of our Muslim neighbors immigrated here.

As a career staff officer, my ability to get along with other staff members and focus on solving problems rather than on personalities was another critical reason why four generals pulled me onto their staffs. Councilmembers should bring differing philosophies to the Council chamber; those differences should never take precedence over continuing to build the success of one of the most successful cities in Minnesota.

When I retired in 2004 I took two years off to spend time with my wife and boys. I had been gone most of my youngest son's life – he was four when I retired –and I was tired of making up bedtime stories to tell him over the phone. In 2006 I went to law school here at the University of St. Thomas. Interesting being a fifty-six year old student with a herd of early twenty-something classmates! Since my graduation in 2009, I've practiced law here in Bloomington, including a healthy dose of pro bono publico law to help underserved citizens. I fought a free speech case in northern Minnesota for a very liberal citizen whose yard signs did not please the city fathers; negotiated a conclusion to a nasty civil rights complaint in a local school district which was successful for all the parties; and helped a number of veterans with their special legal problems, all without charge or at very low charge, depending on their ability to pay. I strongly believe having an attorney on the council would be a great benefit to the City. An attorney who understands the problems of our low-income residents is a further bonus.

That is 'why me'. I look forward to the chance to speak to you directly.

Re: City Councilmember Appointment

Dear Councilmembers:

I was excited to see an opening for Councilmember At Large in Bloomington although I am sorry to hear that Councilmember At Large Cynthia Bemis Abrams is moving out of the state.

As you can see from my application and resume I have a background working with other executive boards and most recently was appointed by the Governor to be on the Minnesota Board of Chiropractic Examiners. I have also served on the board of the non-profits Altrusa international in Madison, Wisconsin and Hope for Tomorrow Mentoring in Bloomington.

While I am very interested in the possibilities this new opportunity offers, I have international travel planned during the scheduled interview dates. I am hoping that if I am a suitable candidate another interview time could be scheduled at your convenience. I can be available anytime during the week of June 27, 2016 through July 1, 2016 or after July 10, 2016.

I am confident that my past experiences will lend well to the Bloomington City Council Board. Feel free to call me at 608-239-1243 (mobile) or 651-265-0018 (work) to arrange an interview. Thank you for your time.

Sincerely,

Ridge Pidde
